

The Palace School received the prestigious RIDS Award (Recognition of International Dimension in Schools) 2025-28, from the British Council. This honour acknowledges the school's sustained efforts in embedding international dimension across its curriculum. Through collaborative projects with our partner school abroad, cultural exchange programmes, and activities integrating global issues such as sustainability, financial literacy, and environmental awareness, students developed broader perspectives and cross-cultural understanding.

The RIDS programme is designed for schools that:

- are keen to embed an international ethos within and across the whole school
- wish to enhance their school's curriculum, teaching and learning
- want to work with partner(s) on a range of projects throughout the school year, and share best educational practices.

The RIDS programme commenced in early 2024, under the management of BC Education India, an Indian subsidiary of British Council UK, committed to enabling young people to achieve their life goals through international curricula, UK school and English language exams, teacher training and English language development solutions.
